

American Walnut Saltwashed Extramatt Poly

Our salt-wash process bleaches out the dark colour of the wood, making it look like unfinished Walnut that has been exposed to intense sunlight for many years. After bleaching the wood further with lye we coat with hard-wearing lacquer. This Walnut gets an opulent refined patina, which looks great on fine graded narrower planks and parquet patterns. Some sapwood and small knots can look stunning, but also think rift and quarter grain selections for a spa or a yacht.

*) Whilst our sampling and photography endeavours to show grain and colour as natural as possible, a sample or photo are never an exact representation of an entire floor. Wood being a natural material, variation in colour and grain exists, floors may change appearance over time through exposure to light, wear and tear and maintenance.

) Prefinishing of solid floors may be subject to more strict recommendations for limited board dimensions and climate control. Read further on the next page.
